It's Tailgate Season!

Nothing beats driving down to the Shoe, firing up the grill and tossing the pigskin around before the Buckeyes beat down on, well anyone really.

But sometimes the good times can get away from you. What happens when you accidentally grill your own truck or your car gets vandalized by a pesky Michigan fan?

Word of the Day: LIABILITY

The state of being responsible for something, especially by law.

In insurance there are 2 types of liability: Bodily Injury & Property Damage.

Bodily Injury - this coverage pays for injuries to someone else if you are at fault in an accident.

Property Damage - this coverage pays for damage to property, such as a vehicle or pole, if you are liable.
